People often ask what is the best thing about the Atherton Tablelands, but as the locals would tell you, there is more than one. Scenic drive routes with little traffic, wildlife, bushland for hiking and mountain biking, waterfalls, impressive lakes, history, cellar door and farmgate experiences plus good old-fashioned friendly hospitality sum up an Atherton Tablelands experience.

Plan to spend a few days exploring the diverse and interesting larger towns of Kuranda, Mareeba, Malanda, Ravenshoe, Yungaburra, Atherton and Herberton or the smaller centres of Millaa Millaa, Chillagoe, Mt Garnet, Innot Hot Springs plus many more.

Hold onto this Touring Map to get the most out of your stay on the Atherton Tablelands and prepare to fall in love with this diverse and stunning region. For more information once you are here, be sure to consult one of the friendly volunteers at the accredited Visitor Information Centres with an  located on this map.

Flavours of the Region

The Atherton Tablelands has long been heralded as the food bowl of the tropical north. From coffee, tea, sugar, to tropical wines, macadamias, milk, cheese and chocolate, the Atherton Tableland's fertile land serves up some of the freshest produce in the country.

It is also these stunning agricultural areas that provide some of the most scenic routes for those taking to the roads, while national parks, wetlands and waterways, provide havens for wildlife spotting such as platypus, tree kangaroos, birds and nocturnal creatures. It is no surprise the combination of all of these has ensued to make the region a real drawcard for foodies.
